MORE ABOUT Madison Rejects

corporation owned by the city of St. Louis. They have authority there, but not over here."

Maeras announced at the same time that Madison is keeping its reserve fund of around $2.5 million dollars intact because of the financial possibility that the city-owned bridge may have to be torn down. He pointed out that after the toll-free Chain of Rocks bridge is open, traffic will be increased from St. Louis to and from Missouri. Madison anticipates little revenue, if any, from its own bridge.

"Who Will Pay?"

"Who is going to pay tolls on a bridge which is right next to it? Is it a bridge that it is free?" the mayor remarked.

However, he said, Madison's present plan is to keep the bridge operating for at least a year after the new bridge is open.

"We owe it to ourselves to do that," he said, "even if we lose money. We have to prove to ourselves whether it still will take in enough money in tolls from vehicles to justify keeping it in operation. Actually, we doubt that it will."

In any event, the mayor went on, a number of plans are being made to eliminate the old bridge if insufficient auto tolls are available. Asked if the city of Madison plans to attempt use of the bridge for railroad purposes, he said he would be liberal at the time to discuss such a project. He did say that we have several irons in the fire, and that some of these will be known at Tuesday's Tuesday night's Madison council meeting.

Will Be Last Resort

Tearing down the bridge may eventually become necessary, Maeras said, "but that will be done only as a last resort, the time we can't find anything else to use for."

He said that estimates already have been obtained on raising the bridge. "From the best offhand estimate we now have, it will cost from $100,000 to $1 million dollars to tear down the superstructure of the bridge. The salami, all of it is steel, will amount to about $100,000 more than $100,000," the mayor said.

This estimated cost, he added, does not include the cost of eliminating the bridge piers. This, he said, would require dynamiting the piers and the blasted concrete from the river channel, a project that would be highly costly and would, in addition, create a real danger to the low water level needed.

Present-day cost to replace the city-owned bridge would be at least $5 million, the mayor said, but there isn't anyone that wants it for that price.

"We have offered it to the U. S. government and we have offered it to the state of Illinois, but they don't want it at any price," the mayor said.

Motorist is Charged

A charge of careless driving was placed against Dortheus Kroesen of Belleville following an accident about 8 p.m. Sunday in the 2900 block of Madison avenue. He was seeking Kroesen's north-bound auto when the right rear door of an auto driven by Opal McDonald, 2500 Madison avenue, who also was going north and making a right turn into the driveway at her home.

The board accepted a complaint from a lakewoman who stated that the lack of proper drainage in the sub-kid on Illinois Health Dept. Engineer C. W. Klassen had caused her to stop her boat and wait for assistance at the meeting.

In other action, the board agreed to accept a bid of $10,000 from the Hayes Printing Co., Springfield, Ill., for the printing of three state seals.

Edison Phelps reported other firms had been asked to submit bids, however, and the board accepted a bid of $10,000 from Hayes.

Rep. Repin filed a complaint from a lakewoman who stated that the lack of proper drainage in the sub-kid on Illinois Health Dept. Engineer C. W. Klassen had caused her to stop her boat and wait for assistance at the meeting.

"THE POPULAR PLACE WITH THE PYLON"

The wedding of Miss Kathleen Marie Obucina, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter P. Obucina, 3325 Palm street, and Edward J. Goclan Jr., whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. Edward Goclan sr., 1015 Greenwood street, Madison, took place Saturday at St. Elizabeth Catholic Church, Johnson and Pontoon roads.

Rev. George Morelock officiated at the noon ceremony before the altar decorated with snapdragons and azalea blossoms.

The bride, escorted by her father; chose a gown of white silk peau de soi, designed on empire lines with a fitted bodice, batiste neck and long train, appliques of Alencon lace and jeweled pearls trimmed the sheath skirt. A Cameolet train held at the shoulders swayed into a graceful curve by the bride's gait.

A high crown of Alencon lace and pearls held her veil of silk illusion. A bouquet of stephanotis, cymbidium orchids and ivy was carried by the bride's maid.

Miss Patricia Skubik, a cousin of the bride, was maid of honor and the bridesmaids were Mrs. Mrs. Steven Salter, Mrs. Edward Goclan, Mrs. Nancie Kuehl, Miss Sandra Wojcik and Miss Debora Trotts, a cousin of the groom. Sherry Graywac served as flower girl. Ring bearer was David Kuehl, son of the bride.

The attendants wore floor-length dresses of candlestick cluney lace. The fitted bodices were decorated with cascade bouquets of aqua daisies and aqua cymbidium orchids.

The flower girl was dressed in white crepe dress featuring a high neckline and a full bustle line. The dress was full-length with an oval neckline and cap sleeves. She carried a nosegay of aqua daisies and a single cymbidium orchid and wore daisies in her hair.

Gerald Goclan was his brother's best man. Groomsmen were John Obucina, brother of the bride, and Peter and John Kuehl, cousins of the bride.

Ushers were Ronald Grzywacz and Dan Trotts, a cousin of the bride.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Obucina wore a vibrant green dress with matching accessories. Her dress was designed with a lace top and a crinoline skirt, an oval neckline and cap sleeves.

A cake walk was held immediately following the ceremony at the American Legion Home in Venice. The evening reception was held at 6:30 at the Legion House.

After a trip through the southern states, the newlyweds will make their home in Madison.

The former Barbara Ann graduated from Granite City high school and attended St. Louis University. Her sorority is Phi Chi Theta. She is an officer of the Granite City Junior Service club and is employed by the Army Aviation Materiel Command, St. Louis.

PROCLAMATION
WHEREAS Epsilon Sigma Alpha, an international women's organization devoted to philanthropic, educational and social endeavors, is beginning its 38th year of existence, uniting women of states and nations; and
WHEREAS members of Epsilon Sigma Alpha have been outstanding in this organization with active philanthropic which has proved beneficial to the citizens of the areas;
NOW THEREFORE, I, Mayor Donald Partney, do hereby proclaim this week, May 1 through May 7, Epsilon Sigma Alpha Week.

DONALD PARTNEY
Mayor, Granite City

ESA Week Being Observed Here

"E.S.A. International Week" is being observed this week by two chapters here, Epsilon Eta and Beta Phi. The organizations have a display at Granite City's Americana Village shopping center.

Epsilon Sigma Alpha is one of the oldest off-campus sororities in existence. It was founded in 1928 at Jacobi Hall, Dallas, Texas, by a group of energetic women who believed that when the doors of academic education close on graduation day, the students face a severe challenge.

The society has grown into an international organization soon after E. Robert Palmer, a widely renowned educator, philosopher, author and lecturer, assumed leadership of the sorority in 1941.

E.S.A. International Week recognizes all three facets of the sorority—the educational, the philanthropic and the social. During the week, 1500 chapters and more than 40,000 members are placing special emphasis on philanthropic projects.

The two local chapters, headed by Gloria Moore and Mrs. Shirley Long, have a combined membership of about 50.

Granite City Net Team 4-1 Over Pioneers

The East St. Louis Assumption tennis team could do little more than make a mild threat in their Wednesday visit when they went up against the consistently strong play of the Warriors in a 4-1 match at Wilson Park.

The Pioneers' one victory came in No. 1 singles when Jim Holland was beaten in three sets by John Conner.

Norm Pippmarck and Bob Malotki continued their strong singles play with Malotki blanking his opponent. The Warriors doubles team was less fortunate though still + easy enough margins.

It was the Warriors' ninth consecutive triumph as coach Hartman's boys point toward a May 18 showdown with Belleville in what figures to be the conference title match.

SINGLES — (G) Granite (GC) def. Assumption by Conner, 6-3, 4-6, 6-3; Pippmarck (GC) def. Malotki (A) 6-0, 6-2; Malotki (GC) over Hubert, 6-0, 6-0.

DOUBLES — Mehl and Davis (GC) over Ellison and Barber (A) 6-1, 6-3; Williams and Parley (GC) over Purnell and Sharmon (A) 6-2, 6-2.

Hitting, Hurling Jell For GC in 7-0 Shutout

The recent improving play of the Warrior baseball team was a gain in demonstrated Thursday afternoon as coach Fedora's nine uppers were 7-0 in a makeup contest at Wilson Park.

Tom Stitch, whose solid clutch pitching the previous afternoon had helped the Warriors and a string of five conference defeats, was never in trouble against the Red Birds. He gave up only four hits. Behind him, the Warriors' error-free fielding was equally solid.

The Warriors, after getting an unearned run in the first, really unloaded their fifth: A balk, four errors by the visitors and Lance Rains' walk to Greg Patton, was "curtains" for Red Bird hurler Tom DuCompton.

Reverer John Clark walked Pat Kester and Bill Veltman single. Rains homed Chorrie Collins then singled to score Patton. Carl Benson hit into a double play but Stitch and Fred Hoffman did well and the Warriors piled up five runs in the inning.

Greg Patton, 2-for-3 in the game with one triple, added the Warriors' final two-out sixth-inning tally when he singled Jay McKeegan home.

Warriors Wait Too Long to Jell As Edwardsville Cops SWC Crown

With the Warriors' recent combination of steady pitching and tight defense coming too late for a 4-1 Southern Conference title, the crown, sewed up by Edwardsville over the weekend, Coach Fedora is now pointing towards the state tournament after the Warriors eliminated Flyers 3-2 Saturday at Wilson Park.

"Our pitching finally came around," Fedora commented, "and our defense has been very tight. Our hitting has been very tight. Our hitting has been getting better, but we have to get them to jell all though." Fedora noted, "some of our boys are hitting extremely well."

Greg Patton's .429 average is pacing the Warriors, with Larry Ripka currently batting .400. Other top hitters include a .347 average. Other standouts have been Carl Benson and Paul Kacera.

Jim Rains' 5-and-2 record has the Warriors' pitching department in high gear. Fedora said but a chronic shoulder condition may see him in only limited action from now on. Rick Turcik has a 3-1 record and Tom Rains has had some tough breaks in his many saving performances.

The Flyers got out in front

Saturday's contest after a pair of singles and an intentional walk led to Ron Esary's two-run double.

The Warriors knotted the score in their half of the fourth on singles by Larry Ripka and Greg Patton's sixth triple of the spring game.

In the next inning Bill Cox singled and advanced on a fielder's choice to have Jim Rains double him home to prove that proved the deciding edge.

$15,000 Painting is Given To SIU-SW Campus Library

A huge painting by French artist Jean Helion, valued at $15,000, and given to Southern Illinois University-Southern-Western Campus by a wealthy individual and devotee and patron of the arts, will be unveiled May 13 at the dedication of the new campus.

Titled "Grand Luxembourg," the multi-panel work shows six life-size figures in Paris' famed Luxembourg Gardens, including a man with a rake, a child playing, and several persons seated around a fountain.

Painting, which cost Sister M. Marcia, Sister M. Theodore and Mrs. Shirley Wenzel, Sister M. Albertine Rongey, Head Nurses Sister Philomena, Sister Pauline, Mrs. Frances Rohr, Mrs. Bernice Gerke; Mrs. Edna Wallace, Mrs. Mildred Dugan, Mrs. Shirley Wenzel and Miss Glenda Moore.

Throughout the workshop, administrators, nurses and others will discover new patterns for nursing care systems and evaluate existing patterns. It is intended that this will improve patient care through more effective utilization of the potential of nurses.

Guest speaker at the morning and afternoon general sessions will be Margaret Giffin Ellsworth, nursing consultant of Illinois Hospital Association.

The gift was acquired for the University by Katherine Kuh, art editor of Saturday Review, who was engaged by SIU to recruit prominent pieces of modern paintings, sculpture and other art works for permanent display on SIU's campuses. Under the Architectural Arts Program, the statue of Rodin's "Walking Man" also is exhibit in the Loveloy Library.

The donor of the canvas, John C. Johnson of Carmel, Ind., said the $15,000 value placed on it was arrived at by averaging appraisals made by the Galerie Georges Castel in Paris and the Leicester Galleries in London. In addition to the painting, Detroit's Morris Canby said, "You may be sure that the artist will be delighted to know that the 'Grand Luxembourg' will be housed in the newly designed building."

Obata, of the St. Louis firm of Helmuth, Obata and Kassabaum, was chief designer of the new campus. The artist, Helion, is now 61 and resides in Paris.

The Law Serves You

When You May Refuse to Testify

(A public service of the Tri-City and Illinois Bar Associations.)

Publicity in newspapers, radio and television in recent years has drawn considerable attention to the phrase "taking the Fifth Amendment" by witnesses appearing in court or before legislative committees.

Most citizens are well aware of the Federal Constitutional right provided in the Fifth Amendment whereby a person may not be forced to give evidence against himself if it will tend to incriminate him. Few, however, are aware of the many ramifications of this provision, as demonstrated by many cases decided before our courts.

Like most of our other laws, the privilege comes into our Constitution in 1789 from English law. Its birth in English law came about as a result of the attempt during Queen Elizabeth's reign to prosecute heretics.

As a result of the "trials" in which Puritans were forced to testify on oath regarding their beliefs and activities, a public outcry ultimately brought Charles I to abdicate the throne in 1641.

Fifth Amendment

The privilege against self-incrimination, as it is employed by U. S. law, generally speaking, permits a person to refuse to testify in a court proceeding if he can establish that the testimony called for would tend to subject him to punishment for violation of a criminal law.

This rule does not mean that a witness can ignore a properly issued summons or appear in court. He must respond, appear in court, and then claim his privilege.

It is of interest to note that the protection is not limited to testimony. For example, if a witness fails to appear, he violates the privilege even though he may be accused without benefit of a search warrant.

Contempt of Court

Since a witness may decline to answer only those questions which tend to incriminate him, he cannot claim the privilege when asked a question that might tend to disgrace him or harm his reputation, nor can he claim the privilege to avoid incriminating himself.

A court may hold a witness in contempt where he refuses to testify on these grounds unless it appears from the nature of the case that the witness has a reasonable basis for concern that the witness will be compelled to testify.

But if the offense which the witness fears may be brought out in his testimony is barred by the statute of limitations—that is, too many years have passed since the offense was committed—the court may still prosecute him if he claims the privilege to avoid disclosure.

In certain cases a statute or the court may grant a witness immunity from prosecution in exchange for his testimony. By thus removing the threat of prosecution the witness is not subject to self-incrimination as to that offense which may be found in the testimony he gives.

There is no doubt that such a privilege is a valuable safeguard against the abuses of a police state. As a consequence, they re-checked their files, consulted area planning authorities and gave less weight to potential projects than to those already under development.

Even using the most conservative statistical approach, they still concluded that aerial photographs—and pupil rosters—were going to show a marked change during the next four to five years.

There is no doubt that such growth prospects will continue to cause concern to city officials. Enlightened governmental and citizen leadership will be essential to meet a wide range of needs, some not yet apparent.

But such an outlook is much more encouraging than that facing communities which have little hope of gaining or holding their own population and economic growth can not only make more Quad-Cityans but a fuller, more interesting and more satisfying life for both old and new residents.

$500 BEAUTIFICATION program is planned by the city for the sewer lift station in front of homes in the 3200 block of Fehling road. The manhole extrusions are to be lowered and shrubbery is to be planted. A brick "monument" was built by the developer to hide the covers and pipes and later was torn down because it obstructed householders' view.

Miss Gasparovic Named To Youth Gov't Post

Annette Gasparovic, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Gasparovic jr. of 2150 Edisen avenue, was selected to be the representative to the 1966 youth legislative meeting, a youth government activity sponsored by the YMCA, held in Springfield.

Miss Gasparovic, who is a senior and sports editor of the Granite City High World, is also secretary of Quill and Scroll, a national student journalism organization.

Two trucks were involved in a collision Thursday at 20th and State street, and Everett High's collision repair shop charged with failure to yield right-of-way. City Faces Many Problems With Death of Comptroller Ousted assistance to prepare the city's annual financial report and set up procedures for modernized accounting is being sought by the new comptroller.

Alleged Rutledge, chairman of the Finance Committee, said that such aid will be needed due to the sudden death April 22 of John J. Dogher, city comptroller. "We have to get some help, I think, and we'll need all the qualified help we can get to carry out the work that has been done by Mr. Dogher," Rutledge told the committee.

The mayor, in turn, asked the bonding firm to get data on the bond payment procedures.

Mayor Partney commented that Mr. Dogher was named comptroller about the same time he was first elected to the council.

Mr. Dogher, city attorney and Finance Committee have been authorized to arrange with Jack Huggins, who has audited the city's books for the past several years, to close the city's books for the current fiscal year which ended Saturday. He will audit the city's financial statement for the year and will be paid $1,000.

"I think he has done a fine job for the people of Granite City and for the aldermen. He was an dedicated public servant and had the respect of each and everyone ended Saturday," he said.

Optimists See Film, Plan for Convention

Granite City Optimists spent an amusing lunch hour Thursday when 100 members viewed a film narrated by comic Don Knot, which vividly described in animated sequences the durability of trucks. Donald Z. Farrants, local auto-truck dealer, presented the gift.

At the two-day conference, Kenney Goss, one of the local zone oratorical champion, competition, slated for June 19-23, will compete against opponents from other Illinois districts. The youth will be accompanied to the contest by his speech instructor, Miss Shirey.

Venice to Fight State's Air Pollution Charge

The Venice city council decided burning at the Venice city dump, Friday night, it will fight state and that burning was witnessed charges of air pollution and by board agents on six specific authorized appointment of L. F. days at various intervals over calls of Granite City air special September and October.

On the suggestion of Dr. John E. Lee, mayor, the council had been given a Sept. 3 deadline on the desist order.

Several efforts have been made to obtain dismissal of the case through assurances by city officials that nothing possible in the case the court can assess a fine up to $200 per day for each violation. Venice is charged with six specific violations allegedly occurring last September and October.

"I feel that Venice is being picked on as a test case and in a similar project, therefore it is a matter of pride that we fight the issue," Mayor Lee told the council. He estimated the cost of the defense at $400.

He added that he does not believe any charge will arise that "no other case of this kind has been filed, and I'm sure the total of $1200 for the six specified days.

"However," he told the council, "there is a question as to whether or not we are guilty of offense in their charge and understand there is some question about their ordinance."

The mayor said he had been informed the case is scheduled for Monday, May 16, but the hearing has not yet been scheduled. City of Granite City, Edwardsville. It is likely it will be heard in the circuit court in Granite City, he said.

City Was Warned
The Air Pollution Control Board charged the city of Venice failed to comply with a board order to discontinue open
